JESSE M. FURMAN, United States District Judge:

In light of the circumstances surrounding COVID-19, the Court is still unable to hold the upcoming conference in this case in person. Counsel are directed to confer and, within two business days of this Order, submit a joint letter indicating their views on whether the proceeding should be held or whether it should be adjourned again (and, if so, for how long).

If either party believes that there is a need for a conference, counsel should indicate their views on whether the Court can, consistent with the Constitution, the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure, the CARES Act, and any other applicable law, conduct the conference by telephone or video and, if applicable, whether the Defendant consents to appearing in that manner and/or to waiving his/her appearance altogether. If the Defendant is detained, counsel should also identify the facility in which the Defendant is held. And if the Defendant is not detained, counsel should indicate whether the Defendant would be capable of participating in a telephone or videoconference.

After reviewing the parties' joint letter, the Court will issue an order indicating whether the conference is cancelled and addressing any other relevant deadlines and information. If a conference is held, it will either be before a different judge (if in person) or be held by telephone or video, and in either case albeit perhaps at a different time. To that end, if counsel believe that a conference would be appropriate, they should indicate in their joint letter dates and times during the week of the currently scheduled conference that they would be available for a telephone or video conference. In the event that the conference is held remotely, counsel should review and comply with the Court's Emergency Individual Rules and Practices in Light of COVID-19, available at <https://nysd.uscourts.gov/hon-jesse-m-furman>.

SO ORDERED.
